

PalPointer: Vision

For youngsters with an active lifestyle who want to find their friends or for parents who want to locate their kids, the PalPointer is a smartphone application that facilitates this by providing you with the directions towards your lost friend or kid. Just by following the PalPointer arrow you will end up on your friend's location in no time. PalPointer will spare you the effort of understanding your friend's surroundings and location. Without this app you are stuck with navigating by addresses and maps. Unlike existing solutions on the market, our product does not have any annoying extra features, it just shows you which direction to go. PalPointer supports communication between devices with only a few clicks within the application, because of this you never have to worry about calling or texting for directions. Leave that to PalPointer, the simplest, most user-friendly application for locating your friends.
